

Kinsman of Lord Praises Tanlac

Roberts Declares It Restored Him to Health After Months of Suffering

"I don't wonder that so many people are praising Tanlac for restoring their health, because it has done the same thing for me and I feel duty bound to tell others," is the statement made the other day by William Stanley Roberts, 715 Locust St., Kansas City, Mo., traveling representative of the Forbes Seed Co. of Newark, N. J. Mr. Roberts is a native of Southampton, England, and a kinsman of the late Lord Roberts, famous British soldier.

"Gas, heartburn, sourness and shortness of breath after eating caused me much hardship. I lost my appetite completely, was going down in weight and terrific headaches, pains in my back and biliousness helped make my miseries about all I could stand.

"But the Tanlac treatment put me in such fine trim I can now easily withstand the wear and tear of constant traveling, haven't a sign of indigestion, sleep soundly and have a mountain of energy. I believe Tanlac is the best medicine made."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Over 35-million bottles sold.

Happenings of Interest in Towns and Country Around Us

The American Legion Post of Rock Valley are making plans for a Fourth of July celebration at that place.

While Albert Mahaney was attending Harry Uhl's sale near Hinton recently he was kicked by a horse and fell. The horse jumped over him and broke his arm and leg.

Melvin Kanago of LeMars had his Ford coupe stolen from the streets of Sioux City March 11th. The Sioux City police were notified but no trace of the thieves has been found. The car was insured.

Albert Van Pelt died at his home in Los Angeles, Calif., March 6th, being over seventy years of age. Mr. Van Pelt was born in the Netherlands and came to America when he was but three years old, locating at Pella, Iowa. In 1871 he came to Sioux county and took up a homestead three miles west of Orange City. He had suffered from pernicious anemia for several years and last fall he went to California in hopes that a warmer climate would benefit his health.

Charles Spencer and Clarence White of Lake View, Iowa, were seriously injured March 2nd when an oxygen tank, which they were using, exploded. The men were working on a storage battery and had connected a Presto tank with the oxygen tank and evidently the pressure was too high. Both men were struck by flying pieces of metal and Mr. White suffered a fractured jaw and a bad cut in his forehead. The force of the blows rendered him unconscious. Mr. Spencer received a bad gash on his arm. The explosion broke the windows of the work shop and could be heard a great distance.

The city council of Beresford passed an ordinance recently forbidding the movie men to show on Sunday. The picture house was closed for some time on Sundays but on March 4th M. P. Ryan and E. W. Kundert, proprietors of the Princess theatre, operated their place of business and were arrested for the act last week. They retaliated by causing the arrest of several business men for having their places of business open on Sunday. One of the business men was H. J. Bondhus, a member of the city council, who had a hand in passing the ordinance prohibiting movies on Sundays.

Peter Hegness of Canton has filed a petition in bankruptcy. Mr. Hegness bought $130,000 of Midland stock and he also bought a number of farms when the value of land was inflated.

A bus line from Sioux Falls to Orange City, Alton, Paullina, Sanborn and return is being planned. This will prove a great convenience for people traveling to Sioux Falls territory from these places.

Maurice decided at a special election March 10th to install a municipal waterworks system and they voted bonds for $16,900 to finance the proposition. A sewer system will also be constructed at once.

Roseco Hoim of Alton, who went to Bradentown, Fla., for a try-out with the St. Louis Cardinals, is making a fine start. His hitting and clean throwing are pleasing to the management and he is one of the best prospects there.

Mrs. Harm Struble and her son and her brother, Charles Kruse, of Ashton were victims of an auto accident March 5th when a dog ran out in front of their Ford car. The car was tipped over a couple of times. Mrs. Struble suffered three broken ribs, a dislocated shoulder and bad body bruises. Mr. Kruse received a bad bump over his eye but the baby was uninjured.

One of the men at the graveling camp at Beresford was quite badly injured when a chain broke that supported the large crane that is used in operating the steam shovel and let one of the "mats" drop. There were three men sitting on the ground nearby and if the mat had not caught on something which held it up for a minute one of the men would have been killed. The injured man was taken to a hospital in Lennox where he will have to remain for some time.

Lash Edwards of Elk Point was found dead in his home Saturday evening by Fred Kafer who rooms in the same dwelling. His throat was cut from ear to ear and a razor lay on the floor beside him. The coroner pronounced it a case of suicide. Edwards was a man about 45 years old and had lived at Elk Point for the past twenty years. He had been unable to work for the last two years owing to an injury suffered in an accident.

Keith Haller, who has been acting as night watchman for several weeks in Eagle Grove, was very seriously hurt in an automobile accident March 3rd. Haller, accompanied by his uncle, J. L. Nott, killed the engine and Haller jumped out to crank the car but in his hurry flooded the engine, so had to wait for the excess gas to run away. As he was standing in front of the car a Ford coupe ran squarely into him. He was taken to a hospital where it was discovered that he suffered a compound fracture of his right knee. It is judged from the appearance of the limb that it must have been smashed between the cranks of the two cars. The injury is very painful and there is some doubt if the limb can be saved. At best the young man will suffer a stiff knee the remainder of his life.

Claus Horst of Hudson died March 6th from injuries received when he fell from the running board of a car. Verne and Frank Trickel and Harry Thorpe were on their way to A. M. Duncan's sale when they met Mr. Horst and asked him to ride. He jumped onto the running board and although the others wanted him to get inside of the Ford sedan he stayed on the running board as he was going only a short distance. When he felt himself slipping he grabbed the tire carrier on the side of the car to hold himself on but it gave way and he fell heavily on his left shoulder and on the back of his head. He was taken to Hudson for medical aid but he died only three and one-half hours after the accident. His neck was broken in the fall and he did not regain consciousness. He is survived by his wife and two sons.

The Early grain elevator at Early burned March 6th consuming 4,000 bushels of corn and 400 bushels of oats. The building and the grain were insured for $10,000.

John Gist of Inwood suffered a painful injury March 3rd. He tried to loosen the clutch in a tractor which had stuck, became entangled in the pulley and his left wrist and arm were "wound up."

Albert Green, one of the rural mail carriers out of Akron, was compelled to abandon his car March 5th on account of not being able to drive through the snow drifts and traveled a distance of about eight miles on foot and delivered mail to the patrons.

A Chevrolet car was found in the west part of Beresford a couple of days after the blizzard March 3rd with indications that it had been there since the storm. It is believed that it is a stolen car and that it was abandoned when the driver ran out of gasoline.

Otto Heinze of Peterson met with a serious accident when he was sawing wood with a buzz saw Feb. 28th. In some way his hand came in contact with the saw and the greater part of his hand was cut off. He was taken to a hospital in Cherokee where he received medical aid but it will be some time before he will be able to work.

Jim Lyons, who lived in a shack on the right-of-way across from the depot at Beresford, was struck by a train March 5th. He had stopped to converse with the section men who were shoveling snow from the track and they supposed that he saw the oncoming train. When he was struck by the engine he was thrown several feet clear of the locomotive and was found in an unconscious condition. He was taken to the hospital but he died shortly after the accident. A team of horses and the shack were his sole possessions and no trace of any relatives could be found.

F. X. Maurer of Spencer suffered a cut in his knee about four inches long when he slipped March 3rd while he was working on a band saw in the Maurer Sales Co. shop.

The big barn on the Charles Kuhl place south of Hull was destroyed by fire March 1st. Lots of hay, some feed and some hogs were also consumed by the fire. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Leo Marx Jr. of LeMars was painfully injured Tuesday when he was assisting in the moving of a water tank. The tank slipped and Marx was caught and pinned underneath. His leg was crushed and his knee was twisted.

Hog rustlers have been very busy in the vicinity of Worthing and Beresford for the past few weeks. The thieves travel in trucks and they take from five to a dozen hogs at the places they visit and they pick the best animals. J. J. Merrigan had a number of his hogs stolen from the stock yards at Beresford recently.

A new firm by the name of the LeMars Loan & Trust Company has been organized in LeMars. The company, which is capitalized for $50,000, will do a general investment business and will look after estates. The shares will be sold at $100 and the period of incorporation is placed at twenty years. The officers of the new company are M. Schafer, president; J. F. Schafer, vice president; and W. M. Schafer, secretary and treasurer.

Ettore Martin, an Italian who had been working on the section at Craig for some time, packed his belongings and left for Des Moines-March 3rd because his cat had been killed when he was in Sioux City. He accused the section men of shooting the cat and then placing it upon the rails so that the train ran over it. He buried the cat but it is said that when he had gone the grave was found open and empty and it is thought that he took the remains with him.

Mrs. Hattie Hammond met with the misfortune of breaking her arm March 6th when she fell down stairs at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ira Stinton at Merrill.

Two strangers appeared in Sioux Center March 2nd driving practically a new Ford. They offered to sell the car at a very low price. Gerrit Wannigen Jr., wishing to purchase the car, went to one of the banks to have the bill of sale made out but the banker refused to have anything to do with the deal because the out of town men were under the influence of liquor. Later in the day Wannigen bought the car, giving his check in payment. After buying the Ford he became suspicious and called the Aberdeen police where the strangers said they had bought the car. Investigation showed that it was a Nebraska car and had been stolen in Sioux City. A car had also been stolen in Mitchell about that time and the numbers of these cars had been changed. The Wannigen check had not been cashed, saving him from quite a loss. Both cars were recovered but the thieves have not been found.
