ALBERTA The Price of Beef

is high and so is the price of Cattle.

For years the Province of ALBERTA, (Western Canada) was the Big Ranching Country. Many of these ranches today are immense grain fields, and the cattle have given place to the cultivation of wheat, oats, barley and flax, the change has made many thousands of Americans settled on these plains, wealthy, but has increased the price of live stock. There is a splendid opportunity now to get a FREE HOMESTEAD OF 160 Acres (and another as a pre-emption) in the newer districts and produce either cattle or grain. The crops are always good, the climate is excellent, schools and churches are convenient and markets splendid in Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta.

Your Child's Health Your First Thought

If you have children, naturally your first thoughts are for their health. You certainly want them to develop strong, healthy constitutions. The most careful attention must be given when children show the first symptoms of the many common ailments. Perhaps they are weakly and thin, or grow too fast, thus sacrificing strength. These and other apparently minor ailments may be the forerunner to a weak constitution for life.

Such children need Jayne's Tonic Vermifuge which is essential to a child's health. First of all, it will properly care for the child's stomach. It will also improve the appetite, and will add strength to the other organs of the body. In cases of thin or impure blood, it increases the number of red corpuscles enabling the enriched blood to keep the body healthy and strong.

Among the most common ailments that children develop is that of a disordered stomach, leading to an impaired digestion. In many cases this trouble is due to parasites in the intestinal tract. To correct such trouble, Jayne's Tonic Vermifuge is unsurpassed.

For more than eighty years millions of children have been restored to health through the use of this tonic. Insist upon Jayne's; accept no other. Sold by druggists everywhere. Dr. D. Jayne & Son, Philadelphia, Pa.

BEELY ELECTED MAYOR

Democrats Capture Six Out of Nine City Officers

Honors were divided in the city election, the advantage being with the candidates on the Democratic ticket. John Beely carried two out of three wards and was elected by nine majority. John Cooper was elected treasurer by 155 majority; C. L. Pinney assessor by 44 and I. J. McDuffie city attorney by 45. For alderman at large Ed. Lucke leads the list with 552 votes with Rev. Vollmar second and Barney Kramer a close third. For aldermen John Lanners was elected in the First ward by 24, Frank Beattie in the second by 109 and A. P. Dornbusch in the third by 3. Six of the winners were on the Democratic ticket and three on the Republican ticket.

The issues involved were largely personal as the mixed result shows. One of the successful candidates on

CLAIMS $4,000,000

Odebolt Inventor Claims Deering People Appropriated Patent

Having received after twenty-five years the letters patent that were issued to him in 1889 on a corn harvester, James A. Norton, of Odebolt, Iowa, well known for other and later inventions, is preparing to launch a $4,000,000 suit against the Deering Harvester company to collect money he asserts is due him in royalties for the use of his invention.

The patent papers were discovered in the effects of the late O. E. Duffy, a Washington patent attorney, who recently died, and by his son were turned over to Mr. Norton.

Interested in the litigation, as holding a third interest in the patent, is James A. Langan, formerly of Sioux City, now president of the Corn Exchange Bank of Omaha.

The Deering company, it is claimed, obtained a slightly modified design based on the Norton patent from John A. Stone, who as a blacksmith at Vall, Iowa, made Norton's first machine from designs prepared by Norton. Stone was given a sixth interest in the patent by Norton, a third being held by Hugh Langan, of Centerville, South Dakota, in return for financing the construction of the first model.

When Langan died the interest went to his son, the Omaha man. The Deering people made an early offer to buy the Norton patent but at a lower figure than Langan was willing to let it go for. Thereupon, his papers having not yet been received from Washington, they persuaded Norton and Stone to file a second application for patent, covering some improvements. This having been done and a patent issued, Stone went into the employ of the Deering company.

Welding two pieces of metal together by the old processes was at best unreliable. When the strain on the welded joint was heavy, you never knew whether it was going to hold or not. But with the use of electricity in making the weld, the fiber so become practically one piece. The success of this new method was recognized at once, and now you have hardly a tool or piece of machinery on your farm but what is electrically welded where there is a juncture of metals. The present state of perfection of garden and barnyard tools, mowers, reapers, binders, threshers, cultivators, kitchen utensils, dairy machinery, edge tools, chains, automobile engines and steering gears, bottoms of oil cans, frames of bicycles, etc., is made possible through electric welding. The same process produces "Pittsburg Perfect" electrical-welded wire fencing, made by the Pittsburg Steel company, whose advertisements are appearing regularly in this paper. "Pittsburg Perfect" fencing is a solid, one piece fabric with many distinctive advantages, among them being the ease with which it is strung, the great tension to which it can be stretched because of absolute elimination of "long" and "short" line wires, the smooth surface making wire-cuts impossible, and the neat appearance of the fence. The welded joint in "Pittsburg Perfect" are twice as strong as the wire itself, because two wires are made into one by electricity, which also piles the galvanizing around the joints, adding greatly to the life of the fence. Modern methods of manufacture in many lines have been greatly benefited by the discovery and practice of welding by electricity.

PRISONERS MIGHT BE FREED

Many in New York Jails Are Held Contrary to the Strict Letter of the Law.

An examination of the prison reports of the state of New York has shown that 254 prisoners are at present serving terms in the state under illegal sentences.

Part of these prisoners claimed when on trial to be first offenders, and so got an indeterminate sentence. The law of New York provides that on second convictions no indeterminate sentence can be given.

Part of them, however, have sentences which terminate in the middle of the winter. The law of New York wisely provides that no prisoner may be released in the winter season, when work is scarce and the incentive to crime is redoubled by the hardship of the cold.

As to the first ground of illegality, other states have permitted indeterminate sentences on second convictions without discoverable bad results.

As to the second ground one can say the clamor against the courts would be less effective if judges would take more care to get on familiar and really friendly terms with the law—Chicago Journal.
